“I feel like my future is going to be great”

“BC3 is more affordable,” said Mikalyn Jackson, 23, of New Castle, who expects to graduate from BC3 in May with an associate degree in physical therapist assistant, then pursue a position in a skilled nursing facility. “In the future, you will have less debt to pay back. I chose BC3 because I wouldn't have that much debt. I'll have only a small amount.”

In addition to BC3's affordability, the 2015 graduate of New Castle Junior-Senior High School said she also chose BC3 because it was “closer to home and an easier commute. Because the classes aren't as large, the instructors could attend to students better. They interact with you. They talk with you. ... They always make sure you understand everything before moving on to the next subject.

“I feel like my future is going to be great through the experiences I had at BC3.”
