FAQ's

Q. Who are the tutors?

A. Tutors are student-centered individuals who possess strong and diverse academic credentials. The staff includes BC3 students, PT faculty, staff and graduates, as well as professionals from the community.

Q. As a student, how do I qualify to become a peer tutor?

A. Successfully complete 12 credit hours of course work (of which only three may be preparatory or developmental), achieve a minimum G.P.A. of 2.8, and earn a final grade of A or B in the courses you wish to tutor.

Q. What is the time commitment?

A. Each tutoring session is one hour in length. Tutors commit to the number of hours they feel comfortable removing from their own, individual schedules. No minimum amount of time is required of any tutor. As little as one hour is acceptable; however, it is expected that the tutor will be consistently available and will commit for the entire semester once a student is assigned. Currently, part-time employment at BC3 is capped at 25 hours per week--all BC3 roles combined--and as calculated by BC3's HR office.

Q. How much are tutors paid?

A. Peer tutors are paid $9.50 per hour. Tutors who have an associate's degree or 76 or more credit hours are paid $11 per hour, and those with a bachelor's degree or above are paid $13 per hour.

Q. How many hours can I expect to work as a tutor?

A. Tutor hours vary and are not guaranteed. Tutors are employed on an as needed basis. The College reserves the right to select and assign tutors to best meet the needs of the students.

Q. Where does tutoring take place?

A. Tutoring takes place in the Academic Center for Enrichment (ACE) located in the Student Success Center on Main Campus and in designated locations at off-campus sites, as well as online.

Q. How do I sign up to be a tutor?
